Conscious Consumption

A limited edition of small and jewellike houses and pavilions designed by 30 of the world's most famous architects—Zaha Hadid, Kengo Kuma, Daniel Libeskind, Sou Fujimoto... This is the latest in boutique architecture, driven by real estate developer and art collector Robbie Antonio, who calls it Revolution. If you missed these Lilliputian dwellings at Basel in Miami, you can still catch them at Salone del Mobile in Milan (April 12-17). Prices range from $50,000 to $500,000. revolutionprecrafted.com
